From Our Readers

We're topping off the year with a few days in Yosemite to rest up from The Great Smog Battle (with Edison Redondo). The miracle is that we won! We really did! For the first time in 10 years Edison Redondo Station does not have a Variance from the County Air Pollution Laws in order to burn sulfurous fuel oil. They will be burning only low-sulfur Indonesian oil and natural gas, both of which comply with smog laws. No more sulphuric acid damage to paint, plants, laundry, nylons and lungs. Hooray! Other utilities will follow suit so it is a county-wide victory.

The fight ranged through three city councils, a county board, APCD, the State Legislature, and Washington, D.C., where it took Pres. Johnson's signature to change Oil Import Quotas. It has been a wonderful, heart warming experience full of finding fine people who work without pay for the good of the community, dedicated government employees and officials, public concern and good judgement by the mangement of great utilities, and the reaffirmation that "our flag is still there."

AMONG THE CLUBS

modore; Kurt Golden, Treasurer; and Steve Gibson, Secretary. During the dinner meeting at which this year's elections were held, outgoing Commodore Jim Rusic, who will continue as Junior Staff Commdore, was honored for his contributions to the club and to yachting in general.

Initiated by this club during the year just past was a plan to add boating to the summer program for underprivileged children conducted by the South Area Youth Services. During the summer, many children in the program were given their first experience in boating aboard Jim Wells's Samurai. Plans are now underway for adding more such boating to the underprivileged children program next summer, and yachtsmen or YCs wanting to join this worthwhile enterprise are invited to find out more about it by contacting Vice Commodore Jim Wells through the South Bay Yacht Racing Club, P.O. Box 545, Manhattan Beach, California 90266.

Shown during one of the underprivileged children's outings initiated by South Bay Yacht Racing Club last summer is skipper Jim Wells aboard his 29' sloop, Samurai. Plans are now under way for increasing next summer's participation in the program among this area's yachtsmen.

Do you know where this hip-booted and sou'westered figure stands? Or what it represents?

It does not overlook the harbor in Gloucester, Santa Monica or Copenhagen. In fact, it doesn't overlook any water at all. It stands in the center strip of Venice Boulevard, about opposite 8800, in Culver City. And it heads inland, toward downtown Los Angeles.

The figure is looking over his right shoulder – perhaps toward Ballona Creek, a half mile to the south. Or possibly back toward the ocean he was sailing on – up to the last five miles. He seems to be saying, "That does it! This is the last time that guy is going to navigate for me!"

Or is he a steersman from an America Cup Race a half century ago and the Shamrock has established an overlap to starboard and is already yelling for a buoy room at the La Cienega light?

A bronze plate, nearly covered by shrubbery around the base, merely identifies the statue as "The Helmsman," but this affords a lead to the Helms Baking Co. building nearby and some answers.

They have long referred to their home delivery salesmen as "Helmsmen" and, when MGM filmed "Captains Courageous" 30 years ago, Helms was moved to have this statue made, somewhat resembling a famous one in Gloucester, Mass. They did not, however, follow through and equip their trucks with ship's wheels or their men with nautical garb.

CAN YOU IDENTIFY THIS STATUE?

Honolulu Race For MORF

A race for Southern California's MORF fleet to be called the Little Honolulu Race will start July 4, 1968, off Marina del Rey and finish off Diamond Head, Oahu, Hawaii.

The new race, which will be similar in its safety and navigational requirements to the Trans Pac, is being organized by a group headed by Bob Staniec, Jim Parks, and Tom Lavine. It will be sponsored by the Little Honolulu YC, a YC organized solely for this purpose.

Boats competing in the event will be divided into four classes: MORF A, B, and C; and Ocean Racing E. The last of these will consist of OR boats under Trans Pac minimum requirements, but too large for MORF.

For the first race in the annual event a tentative limit of 40 entries has been set. Meanwhile, arrangements are now being made for slips and a limited social calendar in Honolulu, and skippers interested in further details about the event are invited to contact Bob Staniec at 14000 Palawan Way, Marina del Rey, California 90291.

New Principle At Maritime Communications

Sonny Alpert, a new principle in the Marina del Rey based Maritime Communications firm, has himself been a boatowner for 30 years, and is now living aboard his 14th boat, a 46' Chris Craft Constellation with his wife Doris and their dog Scuba.

Sharing ownership of the firm with Art Godson, Mr. Alpert will in effect replace Joe DeBuono, who is no longer connected with the operation.

A graduate of UCLA, with an MA from the University of Michigan in Oriental Languages, Mr. Alpert has since 1946 been in the retail field, and was until recently the owner of chains of drapery and department stores covering three states.
